- ¹ Qualifying home – a qualifying home is a housing unit located in Canada. This includes existing homes and those being constructed. Single-family homes, semi-detached homes, townhouses, mobile homes, condominium units, and apartments in duplexes, triplexes, fourplexes, or apartment buildings all qualify. A share in a co-operative housing corporation that entitles you to possess, and gives you an equity interest in a housing unit located in Canada, also qualifies. However, a share that only provides you with a right to tenancy in the housing unit does not qualify. For condominium units, you are considered to own the unit the day you are entitled to immediate vacant possession of it.
- ² Written agreement – a written agreement must include the date the agreement was signed, the address of the qualifying home and the closing date.
- ³ Related person – a person connected to you by a blood relationship, marriage, common-law partnership, or adoption (legal or in fact). For more information, see Income Tax Folio, S1-F5-C1, Related Person and Dealing at Arm's Length.
- ⁴ First-time home buyer – you are considered a first-time home buyer if, in the period that begins on January 1 of the fourth year before the year you withdraw funds from your RRSP, and ends 31 days before the date you withdraw the funds, you did not occupy a home that you owned, or one that your current spouse or common-law partner owned. For example, if you are withdrawing the funds on July 31, 2022, the period is from January 1, 2018 to June 30, 2022.
